

Paper presented

Clifford Schrader, head of the science department at Dover High, presented a paper at the 93rd annual meeting of the Ohio Academy of Science at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland. It was titled "The Relationship Between Science Teaching and Industry." The conference was attended by 600 members from throughout the state.